

Whist teams at RSGC and other places

These are alternatives to cumbersome Swiss teams

At RSGC, they play these as LONG sessions, meaning 28-32 boards played. (14x2, 10x3, 8x4)

The session spans lunch, so they can score at half time

I do scoring from datum slips and provide half time standings

(BM2s better but can't use with ASE since ASE moves have to start at Round 1)

Compscore2 allows teams moves to be edited so okay with BM2s

Scoring is not quite fair since movements are incomplete. Teams don't all play the same boards.

For example, 17 tables playing 10x3 means missing 6 opponents, 7 board sets

To make it fairer, score as BaM, where all boards worth the same. However, they prefer IMPs. (Teams means IMPs to them)

Thus 17 tables should play 2-board rounds, playing 14 of 16 opponents, 14 of 17 board sets

With even tables, use double skip, ignoring last sharing round. There are irregularities but they occur over lunch and at end so no issue
